Take Control of Your Financial Success.

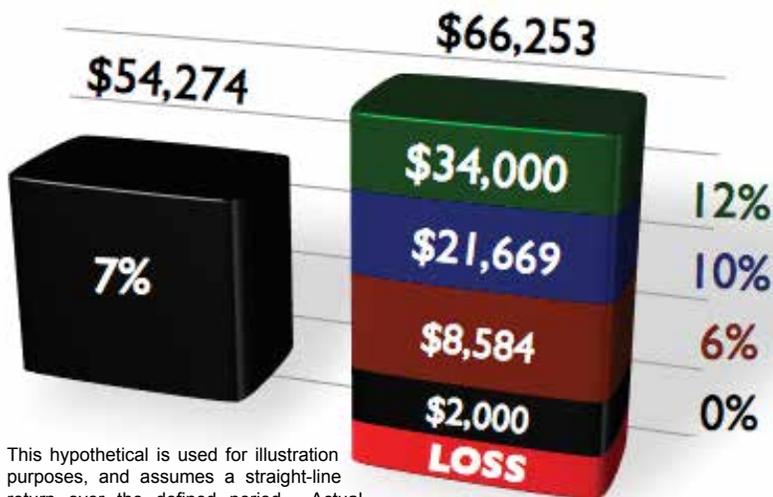

The Portfolio Basics

Diversification...

is the process of investing in different types of investments such as cash, bonds, equities, and alternatives. You have heard the motto: “Don’t put all your eggs in one basket.” The proper mix and investments in your portfolio depends on your risk tolerance, investment goals, and time horizon for each objective. Again, everybody is different! Your portfolio and investments should be treated differently also!

For illustration purposes only - does not represent the allocation of any particular model.

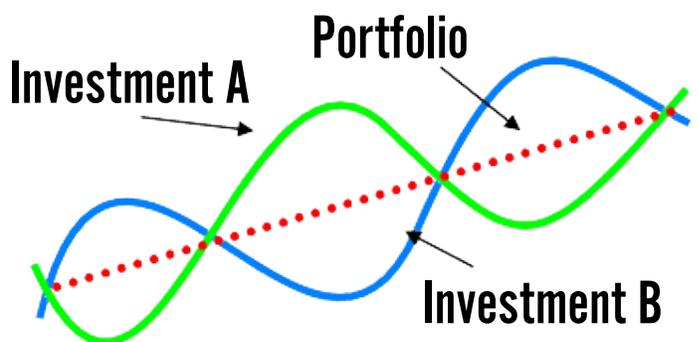

This hypothetical is used for illustration purposes, and assumes a straight-line return over the defined period. Actual results would vary. Results are not guaranteed and an investor could lose a portion or all of their money.

The Power of Diversification...

can be explained by the chart to the side. If a person would have invested $10,000 in a fixed investment over 25 years returning 7% annually, they would have accumulated $54,274. If a 2nd person would have invested $2,000 in each of 5 investments that annually returned 12%, 10%, 6%, 0% and one investment that lost all $2,000, who would be better off at the end of 25 years? The diversified account would have accumulated $66,254. That is nearly $12,000 more in the diversified portfolio.

Taking it to the Next Level

Enhanced diversification comes with using investments that are non-correlated or less correlated to one another. In other words, using investments that work differently in different types of market conditions. This may give you a better chance to make money in rising or declining markets and potentially protect assets during market declines.

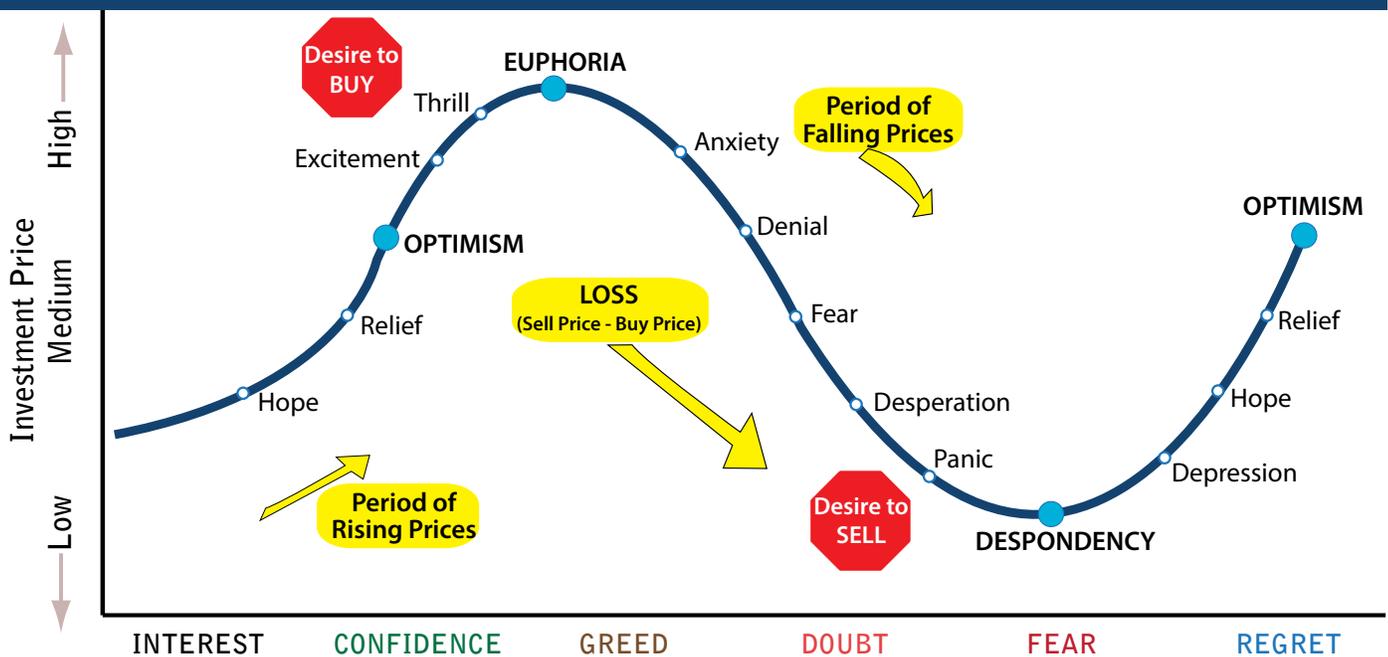

Disciplined Investing

It is Time in the Market, Not Market Timing

Human emotions have the ability to affect clients investing. It is common for investors confidence to grow as your investments grow. Conversely, as markets lose value, confidence decreases. Clients tend to go to the sidelines at the wrong time.

Disciplined investing does not adhere to the emotions of investing such as greed, fear, or chasing returns. Along with keeping your account diversified, using a disciplined long-term investment approach is key to obtaining consistent and sound results.

Disclosures for Creative Financial Designs, Inc.

Investment Risk

All investments entail risk, and these risks could result in the loss of principal in your investment. There is no guarantee of returns. If there are historic or hypothetical returns identified in this piece, these are provided as informational only, and should not be read as an indication about the returns that you should expect to receive as a result of this investment. Past performance is not an indication of future results.

Model Portfolios

Portfolios are allocated pursuant to models determined by Creative Financial Designs, Inc., (Designs) which is solely responsible for the content of each model, and the selection of specific investments within the confines of each asset class and model. Designs has discretion to change the model at any time, and will make changes to the model based on current or anticipated market conditions, as deemed appropriate. Any references to percentages of assets in a model portfolio are subject to the discretion of the management team, and are subject to change at any time, without notice.

Variations Among Accounts

Each Designs investment model is merely a guideline, and there may be variance between investment holdings, and therefore returns, in any particular account versus the model allocation. In some instances, these differences may be material. Additionally, there may be some differing holdings among customers investing in the same investment model portfolio. Some of these differing holdings are the result of limited investment options, such as would be the case in self-directed retirement accounts, and/or managed variable annuity accounts. Additional variations could arise due to such things as, without limitation:

- programmed reallocations by an issuer, pursuant to particular product terms and conditions
- special reallocation requests by the client
- timing issues, e.g. investors purchase a fund that subsequently is no longer available for new purchasers, so later investors invest in a comparable (though not identical) investment

- size of an investment account
- additional strategic options selected by a client, e.g. a client uses the invest over time option or an alternative investment rider option
- additional contributions to an account, or one-time or systematic withdrawals from an account
- the fact that transactional charges may make a reallocation disadvantageous to a particular client, or due to the investment strategy which the client has selected
- tax implications applicable to an individual investment or account
- opening of new investments
- closing of investments to new investors
- minimum investment amounts applicable to investments

Client Choices Influencing Returns in the Account

Please note that your choices as a client may influence the returns in your account, and may not mirror returns of holdings of other investors in the same model portfolio. Some of your choices that may affect the account include:

- Making additional contributions to your account
- Making withdrawals from your account
- Putting special restrictions on your account, either to hold a particular security, to avoid a particular security, to hold additional cash, etc.
- Selecting an add-on strategy such as the Invest Over Time option or selecting an Alternative Investment Rider
